

Dear Robert,

Thanks for the addition info that arrived today, both envelopes.

I have archival interest in these things and the additional interest of knowing about them in the event I'm asked. However, this is not worth the considerable effort you made, which I do appreciate. But if you are now back at work, particularly because I'm not sure I'll be asked, remember - first things first and this isn't.

Except possibly for ITV's, which I think may be good and I know will have what is new because I provided it, all appear to be unbecoming commercializations without any substance of public value. Most will disinform.

There is at least one book of supposed nonfiction of which I know but little. I know both authors, who ask for secrecy. They gave me three chapters to go over. I found errors and then they told me it is set in type. I don't know its title. The chapters I read are persuasive, well done, but fatally flawed. They may well be well received.

All the claims to what is "new" for Jack Anderson are b.s. No, I've heard nothing more from the man due here Friday (this is Monday) and who was to do the JFK crap most of which will be mafia irrelevancy. The approach to Anderson referred to was not by the mob figure he doesn't name, Roselli, but by the lawyer for him or for him and Giancana, Ed Morgan, former FBI agent on Hoover's shit list. It is for all practical purposes a CIA disinformation job. ~~Mr~~ Anderson went to Warren, who sent him to the Secret Service, which sent him to the FBI, which would not talk to him at HQ but sent a Washington Field Office agent(s) to see him. I have all the reports of what the FBI recorded on paper of what he told it. It boils down to their undisputed claim that they were working for the CIA to off Castro. This is what gave added impulse to the untenable kickback theory, Castro did it. Last thing possible for many solid reasons.

There is what may amuse you in this. Seems that ~~Mr~~ Giancana was laying Phyllis McGuire of the McGuire sisters. He suspected she was doing to him what he was doing to his wife - two timing. Correctly believe it was with Dan Martin of Ryan and Martin. So, he told his well-known contact whose name for the moment escapes me that he was helping the CIA so he wanted its help, proof that McGuire was laying Rowan. It got a thoroughly incompetent Miami wire man, sent him to Vegas, where he located Rowan's room and bugged the bed. He did that so incompetently it was discovered promptly. I think by the maid, who reported it. Led to a closely-held stink. The wire man, as I recall his name is Bellocchio (I have the file if you know anyone interested) said that if he wasn't let go he would talk. He was let go. And the FBI had to be in on this, so it kept quiet until it could make some points with LBJ and lay it on CIA, when it sent a memo to LBJ. It got back the word that LBJ was satisfied that there had been a conspiracy to kill JFK and that the CIA was part of it.

Obviously, anyone under suspicion of involvement can have an interest in directing attention to someone else. This was the FBI's game when it informed LBJ, Garrison then making noises about FBI involvement.

Please excuse the typos. Tired today and I don't want to get farther behind.

Thanks again and best wishes,
